DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in–

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

2. Claims 1 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as clearly being anticipated by Lee et al. (6,220,880).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lee et al..

Lee et al. discloses an electric socket for electric outlet, which fits different electric plugs for use in different countries.

In regarding to the as-claimed dimension of the cutout and the distance between the screw mounting holes, it would have been obvious to modify Lee et al. invention by having the dimension of the cutout and the distance between the screw mounting holes as-claimed, since applicant has not disclosed that having these specific dimensions solve any stated problem or are for any particular purpose and it appears that the power outlet connector would perform equally well without any dimensions.

Although Lee et al. does not specifically disclosed the claimed power ratings, this feature is seen to be an inherent teaching of that device since an electric socket for electric outlet, which fits different electric plugs for use in different countries is disclosed and it is apparent that any type of variety of power outlet connectors must be present for the outlet to function as intended.
